The Festival dates for 2009 are 23, 24 & 25 October; for schools this is the last day of term, and the first weekend of the October break.

The Festival is aimed at young people from across East Sussex aged 15 – 19; however this can be extended to include the commonly used youth arts definition of 13-19.

We welcome submissions directly from young people and from those working with them; however any submissions from educational establishments must be for non curricular work. All work submitted must be created by young people in this age range, and must be new work that has not been submitted to Access All Areas previously.

Performance: There will be programmed slots at the start of each day prior to the start of workshops. Evening programming will be themed a Young Bands Night, a DJ / VJ night and the final night collaboration with BBC Blast celebrating work created over the 2009 Access All Areas Festival. Post submission deadline you will be contacted about tec requirements, and bands will be asked to submit a demo.

Visual Art: Will be exhibited as part of the Access All Areas group show, young people can submit one piece each. All work needs to be provided in a format that can be exhibited; completed 2D artwork must be mounted or framed.

Workshops: These can be run by professionals and/or young people, the latter can use the experience towards gaining their Arts Award. Anyone running workshops will be sent a workshop agreement after the submission deadline, which will need to be completed and returned prior to the Festival.
